

Waste Separation

Waste separation is the process of separating different types of waste from each other for recycling or other beneficial reuse.

Waste separation is the process of separating different types of waste from each other for recycling or other beneficial reuse.

1666

1666@wamco.com.mv

+960 3025801

www.wamco.com.mv

Waste Separation

Waste separation is the process of separating different types of waste from each other for recycling or other beneficial reuse.

Waste separation is the process of separating different types of waste from each other for recycling or other beneficial reuse.

Waste separation is the process of separating different types of waste from each other for recycling or other beneficial reuse.

Waste separation is the process of separating different types of waste from each other for recycling or other beneficial reuse.

